

Source-to-Contract at a Glance

Unit4 Source-to-Contract by Scanmarket specializes in driving upstream value from the supply chain, helping to build long-term relationships and value creation rather than just transactional interactions

The supply chain management software market – Where Unit4 Source-to-Contract fits

For more information, go to:
unit4.com

A best-of-breed Source-to-Contract solution recognized for exceptional ease of use, seamless integration and realized value.

Source-to-Contract software built to be used...

... creating significant value for customers across the entire organization

Drive user adoption

Rated exceptional in ease of use by analysts, empower you people with a tool built to be used by all.

Increase visibility

Gain a 360 degree view of spend, sourcing, contract and supply chain data.

Your success is our success

Implementing a Source-to-Contract solution will not guarantee results. Using it does. A cloud platform in 23 languages that secures wide user adoption and maximizes ROI.

Reduce risks

Ensure adherence to compliance rules reducing ESG and supply chain risks.

Integrate with everything

Connect seamlessly to the entire IT landscape with a complementary solution that enables the right mix of technology to give the user a smooth experience.

People first

Collaborate in real-time across projects, events, teams and departments

Giving back time

Eliminate administrative work and automate processes

Experts at your fingertips

Digital procurement partner with decades of domain experience who is always available to support you.

Drive strategic value

Leverage data and insights to inform strategic decision making.

Access to knowledge based on +20 years of industry experience

Customer Success team to drive user adoption

Simplify Strategic Sourcing: Unit4 Source-to-Contract by Scanmarket offers a modularized Source-to-Contract software suite that enables organizations to enhance their sourcing capabilities and drive end-to-end value within their procurement function.

From Source-to-Contract Management – A flexible suite of products that support you at every stage.

